

WHAT ARE OUR AIMS?

In our school, emphasis is placed on the child's all round development. In particular we aim to help our children:-

- To be enthusiastic, cheerful and sensible
- To work hard to achieve all that they are capable of in every aspect of their life
- To become literate and numerate and to learn about the world they live in
- To develop thinking and study skills that will allow them to carry on learning throughout their life
- To show independence and to take responsibility for themselves and for others
- To care about other people, show consideration of their needs and treat everyone equally without prejudice
- To know how to behave appropriately, acting with courtesy, common sense and self discipline at all times

WHAT IS OUR SCHOOL'S ETHOS

In order to achieve our aims for your child there are general principles that run through the curriculum.

- Everyone is taught as an individual: all pupils have individual needs. Some learn more slowly than others, some have exceptional ability and others learn more readily in one area of work than another.
- We aim to allow for these different rates and ways of development by seeking to ensure that all our pupils achieve their full potential through pursuing excellence in all forms.
- Everyone has an opportunity to develop morally, culturally and spiritually.
- Everyone has an equal opportunity: all our boys and girls have equal access to the same broadly based and balanced learning experiences.
